ABOUT THE BARENAKED LADIES

Formed in 1988 in Scarborough, Ontario, the Barenaked Ladies are a beloved, world-renowned Canadian rock band known for creating fun, timeless music. Over the course of their remarkable 30-year career, the Barenaked Ladies have sold more than 15 million albums, written multiple Top 20 hits, garnered two Grammy Award nominations, won eight JUNO Awards, had Ben & Jerry’s name an ice cream after them (“If I Had 1,000,000 Flavours”), participated in the first-ever “space-to-earth musical collaboration” with astronaut Chris Hadfield and garnered an international fan base whose members number in the millions. In 2018, the band was inducted into the Canadian Music Hall of Fame, and Toronto Mayor John Tory declared October 1 “Barenaked Ladies Day.” The band attributes their long-running success to each members’ connection to each other and individual identities as musicians, consistently proving their undeniable power and chemistry as a live act throughout the decades.
