The Marshall Tucker Band came together as a driven six-piece outfit in Spartanburg, South Carolina in 1972. The band currently consists of Doug Gray (lead vocals), B.B. Borden (drums), Ryan Ware (bass/vocals), Chris Hicks (guitar/vocals), Rick Willis (guitar/vocals) and Marcus James Henderson (keyboards/saxophone/flute/vocals).

The band's mighty music catalog, consisting of more than 20 studio albums and a score of live releases, has racked up multi-platinum album sales many times over. They are best known for hit songs like "Heard It in a Love Song," "Can't You See," "Fire on the Mountain," "Long Hard Ride" and "Ramblin'."

Their influence can be felt far and wide through many respected contemporaries and the artists who've followed the path forged by their collective footsteps and foot stomps. Their inimitable down-home sonic style helped make them the first truly progressive southern band to grace this nation's airwaves. For more information, visit marshalltucker.com.
